

I am very concerned that the mergers and concentration of ownership of media outlets will remove checks and balances and will result in less, not more diversity of opinions and programming. I am especially worried about the effect of concentrated ownership on news reporting.